innovations in plastic packaging

Switch to recyclate now and do your part for the environment.

Using post-consumer recyclate (PCR) lets you bring recyclables into the material loop and reduce waste. In this way, you can take an important step towards reducing your carbon footprint.

Let's face it, it's only a matter of time before a tax is levied on non-recycled plastics. So, switch to our post-consumer-recyclate packaging now and save money.

Our new packaging line is your perfect response to your customers' demands for more sustainable packaging.
