In the following, we will inform you about which data we collect, the way in which it is processed and your rights in this context, in particular with regard to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Who is responsible for the data processing?

In terms of data protection law, the entity responsible ("data controller") is (depending on the contracting party):

What personal data about you do we process? And for what purpose?

- Personal details (e.g. name, address, contact details, birthday, place of birth, nationality)
- Family data (e.g. marital status, information on children)
- Qualification (e.g. training, professional experience, language skills, advanced training)
- Certificates, certificates

What is the legal basis for this?

The legal basis for the processing of personal data is - as long as there are no specific legal provisions - the General Data Protection Regulation and the Federal Data Protection Act.

The following options in particular come into consideration here:

- Consent (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. a) GDPR)

If you have given your consent to the processing of personal data, the data will only be processed for the purpose stated in the consent.

- Data processing for the fulfillment of contracts (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. b) GDPR and Section 26 BDSG)

The processing of your personal data takes place for the establishment, implementation or termination of the employment relationship within the framework of the existing contract or for the implementation of pre-contractual measures.

- Data processing based on a weighing of interests (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. f) GDPR)

If necessary, your personal data will be processed beyond the actual fulfillment of the contract. This processing serves to safeguard the person responsible or third parties.

- Data processing to fulfill a legal obligation (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. c) GDPR as well as Art. 88 GDPR and §26 BDSG).

The person responsible is subject to various legal obligations or statutory obligations (e.g. social security law, occupational safety, possibly professional law of lawyers, tax laws), as well as regulatory requirements (e.g. bar associations).

If special categories of personal data are processed in accordance with Art. 9 Para. 1 GDPR, this serves the exercise of rights or the fulfillment of legal obligations from labor law, social security law and social protection (e.g. providing health data to the Health insurance, recording of the severe disability due to additional vacation, determination of the severely handicapped tax). Processing takes place on the basis of Art. 9 Paragraph 2 b GDPR in conjunction with Section 26 Paragraph 3 BDSG. In addition, the processing of health data may be necessary to assess your ability to work in accordance with Art. 9 Paragraph 2 h GDPR in conjunction with Section 22 Paragraph 1 b BDSG. In addition, the processing of special categories of personal data can be based on consent in accordance with Art. 9 Paragraph 2 a GDPR in conjunction with Section 26 Paragraph 2 BDSG (e.g. operational integration management).

If personal data is processed on the basis of your consent, you have the right to revoke your consent vis-à-vis our company at any time with permanent effect. If we process data on the basis of a balance of interests, as the data subject you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data, taking into account the requirements of Art. 21 GDPR.

For how long is the data stored?

We process the data for as long as it is required for the respective purpose. To the extent that statutory storage obligations exist – e.g., under commercial law or tax law – the personal data in question is stored for the duration of the retention obligation (10 years). After expiry of the retention obligation, we check whether any further processing is necessary. If the data is no longer required, it is deleted. In exceptional cases, the general retention period for personal data may be up to 30 years if it is required for the purpose of asserting, exercising or defending against legal claims.

Naturally, you are entitled at any time to request information about the personal data that we have stored concerning you. Where no requirement to retain the data exists, you are entitled to request its deletion or to restrict its processing (see below).

Online-based Audio and Video Conferences (Conference tools)

Data processing

We use online conference tools, among other things, for communication with our customers. The tools we use are listed in detail below. If you communicate with us by video or audio conference using the Internet, your personal data will be collected and processed by the provider of the respective conference tool and by us. The conferencing tools collect all information that you provide/access to use the tools (email address and/or your phone number). Furthermore, the conference tools process the duration of the conference, start and end (time) of participation in the conference, number of participants and other "context information" related to the communication process (metadata).

Furthermore, the provider of the tool processes all the technical data required for the processing of the online communication. This includes, in particular, IP addresses, MAC addresses, device IDs, device type, operating system type and version, client version, camera type, microphone or loudspeaker and the type of connection.

Should content be exchanged, uploaded or otherwise made available within the tool, it is also stored on the servers of the tool provider. Such content includes, but is not limited to, cloud recordings, chat/ instant messages, voicemail uploaded photos and videos, files, whiteboards and other information shared while using the service.

Please note that we do not have complete influence on the data processing procedures of the tools used. Our possibilities are largely determined by the corporate policy of the respective provider. Further information on data processing by the conference tools can be found in the data protection declarations of the tools used, and which we have listed below this text.

Purpose and legal bases

The conference tools are used to communicate with prospective or existing contractual partners or to offer certain services to our customers (Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. b GDPR). Furthermore, the use of the tools serves to generally simplify and accelerate communication with us or our company (legitimate interest in the meaning of Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR). Insofar as consent has been requested, the tools in question will be used on the basis of this consent; the consent may be revoked at any time with effect from that date.

Duration of storage

Data collected directly by us via the video and conference tools will be deleted from our systems 5 / 9 immediately after you request us to delete it, revoke your consent to storage, or the reason for storing the data no longer applies. Stored cookies remain on your end device until you delete them. Mandatory legal retention periods remain unaffected.

We have no influence on the duration of storage of your data that is stored by the operators of the conference tools for their own purposes. For details, please contact directly the operators of the conference tools.
